Alexander Sullivan Arrested at Chicago,

Charged With Complicity in the Murder of Dr. Cronin.

The Ex-President of the Irish League in a Cell.

Startling Testimony at the Coroner's Inquest — The Clan-na-Gael's Secret Workings—Arrests In New York.

Secret Workings—Arrests In New York.

By Telegraph to The Times.
CHICAGO, June 11.—[By the Associated Press.] In the Cronin inquest this morning, John C. Garrity, a saloon-keeper, testified that Detective Coughlin tried to hire a tough character known as "Maj. Sampson," to slug Dr. Cronin. He wanted him slugged with a baseball bat and disfigured for life. If it killed him it would not make much difference.

J. D. Haggerty, a railroad clerk, gave testimony. After the trial of Dr. Cronin he said, Alexander Sullivan told him Cronin was a scoundrel and a menace to the Irish cause. It was thei mpression of witness that Sullivan said Cronin should be exterminated. Witness was of the same opinion at that time. and a third man came out with a heavy trunk. The third man was P. O'Sullivan. When the trunk was put in the waron, O'Sullivan returned to the house. Wood-ruff, with King and Faisburn drove on Lin-

Lincoln Fark. The men intended to take the trunk and contents into a boat out on the lake and sink them, but owing to it being a bright night and to the presence of strangers they changed their minds and drove back. When they reached the manhole at Sixty-ninth street, they tried to dump the trunk into it, but falling, they kicked the trunk open, having jost the key, took the body from it and threw it into the hole. Woodruff was then told to drive off."

CRONIN'S PAPERS READ.

CRONIN'S PAPERS READ.

The Chief then produced the private papers of Dr. Cronin, which were turned sapers of Dr. Cronin, which were turned were to him by the salconkeeper, Conklin, with whom Cronin lived. Conklin identi-ied them as being in the handwriting of Dr. Cronin, and the Coroner read the docu-nents to the jury. It was decided by the ury that the names of the parties men-loned in the documents should not be sade public, except those already brought nto the case.

The first paper was a telegram from J. D. McMahon calling on the Doctor te meet him at the Windsor Hotel, New York, "by order of the committee," January 18, 1883. There was another telegram from J. H. Ronayne, calling for the Doctor's report on the Sullivan trial. To this the Doctor replied, as a copy of the letter showed, that he would vote again as he voted at the trial. Then the Coroner read the minority report of the trial committee, dated Philadelphia, January 18, 1889, and signed by J. A. McCahey and P. H. Cronin. The report blames Alexander Sullivan for neglecting the family of Mackey Lamasey, and scores Sullivan, Boland and Feely for excluding C. H. McCarthy from the Boston convention, and also for excluding a delegate of the home organization from the same place. It was alleged that the report of the Boston convention showed a deficit of $18,000, at the instance of Sullivan, when there really was a balance; that $11,000 was improperly spent and not accounted for by the triangle; that men sent to England on "missions" were not sufficiently supplied with money, and that the agent of the triangle was responsible for this; that $7,191 drawn from the treasury for "active work" was not used for that purpose by the triangle, but that with this surplus money was in the hands of the triangle's agent. This report was signed by McCahey and Cronin, with ther recommendation that it be printed and sent to each camp.

The Coroner then read Dr. Cronin's notes taken at the trial. The objections of Alexander Sullivan, made to Dr. Cronin string on the committee, are stated at large, and also that they were overruled by the votes of Buras, Rogers, McCahey and Cronin. to the case. The first paper was a telegram from J. D.

THEY PERFORMED OPERATIONS.
One witness testified that he was sent to England to do active work, and was given England to do active work, and was given £4 and a steerage tiexet. He came back by a steerage passage without bedclothes or other necessaries. He slept, he said, on the soft side of a plank. He went again, and was told to get some one to help him. John J. Maroney was one of the men who was to help him. He was given £200, and when he got to England got no more. He did not use the alias given him by the triangle, and the intimation in his evidence is that this was what saved him from failing into the hands of the English authorities. He and his partner "performed four operations."

The trouble in the Pittsburgh convention was told about. Objection was made to Tim Cream and Florence Sullivan being seated as proxies for Father Dorcy and Alexander Sullivan.

evidence."

The jury did not want to hear any more, and at 4:40 o'clock retired for deliberation in the Coroner's office. At 6 o'clock the jury sent out for supper, which was brought in to them.

A VERDICT AGAINST SULLIVAN.

The jury was still in secret session at 9:45.
State's Attorney Longnecker had been sent for twice. He stated on coming out of the jury-room that the jury had decided to hold Alexander Sullivan and several others, but that the names of the others had not been decided on.

that the names of the others had not been decided on.
At 10:25 the jury brought in its verdict, a feature of it being a recommendation that ficers were dispatched to Sullivan's residence to arrest him.

THE VERDICT.

CHICAGO, June 11.—[By the Associated Press.] At 10:15 p.m., after being out five hours and a half, the jury came into court and commenced reading their verdict. It was a long document, but was listened to with marked attention. The following is the text of the verdict:

"We, the undersigned jury appointed to make inquiries according to law as to how the body viewed by us came to its death, apprenension of the state that in our judgment all secret societies whose objects are such as the evidence shows that of the Clan-na-Gael or United Brotherhood to be are not in harmony with, and are injurious to, American institutions. We hope that

SULLIVAN ARRESTED.

The Ex-President of the National CHICAGO, June 11.—(By the Associated Press.) Alexander Sullivan's arrest was effected without the slightest trouble. Beore the verdict was read in public Coroner fore the verdict was read in public Coroner Hertz emerged for a moment from the room in which the jury was in session. He beck-oned to an officer and handed him a mit-timus. The officer, with a comrade, hur-riedly left the City Hall, and jumping into van's residence, went to the fro

"We are policemen, and have a mittimus for his arrest," rejoined the officer, whose name is Henry Palmer.

"All right; come in gentieman. I will call him," said Mr. Brown.

Officer Palmer and his comrade stepped inside, while another policeman who had put in an appearance descended the steps and ran around the block to the rear of the house. Before three minutes had passed, no less than half a dozen weblelse had been driven up to the curb near the house, and the sidewalk contained more than a score of men.

"All right; come in gentieman. I will not prove that he murdered Cro anything to do with the crime."

"It is learned that the Carison tage."

"And that he was in all probe may be a may be drove the Doctor away."

no less than half a dozan vehicles had been driven up to the curb near the house, and the sidewaik contained more than a score of men.

Mr. Brown lighted the gas in the parlor and invited the officers to take seats. Mr. Sullivan evidently had beard part of the conversation between Brown and the officers, for a moment later he thrust his head over the balustrade on the second floor and said, "All right. I'll dress and come down."

He soon appeared on the stairway, dressed in his ordinary street dress. Descending to the parlor he recognized Officer Palmer, whom he had known for yeirs, and extending his hand said: "Why, how are you, Palmer. You want me, do you?" "Yes," said Palmer, "I have a mittimus for you. I suppose, though, you are not greatly surprised."

"Well, slightly, at this hour. I was just about retiring. Will you not remain in the house all night rather than go to jail?"

"No." said Palmer, "I have no authority to do so."

"All right, Palmer, I'll go with you," said Mr. Sullivan walked to the rear of the hallway where a female figure could be dimly seen behind the portieres. Placing his arm tenderly around the woman's waist and Mr. Sullivan kissed her and then took up his hat, saying: "Now I am ready." The street door opened. Mr. Brown stepped out first, followed by Officer Palmer. Next came Mr. Sullivan, followed with a firm tread. His hat was set back slightly on his head, giving a clear view of the smooth-shaven face and clear, onen eyes. On reaching the sidewalk Brown took the attorney's arm and reëntered the carriage with the officers. By this time the occupants of the adjoining houses and those across the street were awakened, and a dozen windows were opened. Little groups of men and women assembled on the sidewalk, and had scarcely assembled when the sight-seeing ended by the carriage quickly rolling away to the jail, scarcely a mile distant.

At the jail officer from the sidewalk, and had scarcely assembled when the sight-seeing ended by the carriage quickly rolling away to the jail, scarcely ness that Suflivan said Cronin should be exterminated. Witness was of the same opinion at that time. LeCaron, who was a friend of Alexander Sullivan, was a member of the committee that tried Cronin. He was introduced to witness by Sullivan at the trial as a man worthy of confidence in the Irish cause.

At the afternoon session a number of witnesses were examined without developing anything of importance.

Then Chief of Police Hubbard was sworn, and told of an interview which he had had with Woodruff, the horse-thief, Hubbard with Woodruff, the horse-thief, Hubbard said he was, and he then described the cottage.

incarcerated in cell No. 25 in the tier known as "murderers' row."

The Daily News' report of the arrest says Mr. Sullivan exhibited no impatience or charrin at Officer Palmer's refusal of his request to remain at the house over night. "I give you credit, Mr. Sullivan, for being a very cool man." said the veteran detective in a subsequequent conversation. "Well." said Sullivan, "a man with a clear conscience need never worry, and I know of no wrong I have done." Then he donned his overcoat and hat and led his captors from the house.

The Daily News says the woman who appeared at the head of the stairs leading to the basement was Sullivan's old house-keeper, who was in a state of great trepidation. Sullivan hastened over to her and, after saying a few words, kissed her goodby. The only incident at Sullivan's residence after the carriage had driven away was that half a dozen disconsolate individuals who had been posted in dark corners, completely surrounding the house, were seen to come out of their hiding-places and quickly disappear from the neighborhood. They were the "shadows" who have dogged every step of Sullivan for weeks past, and their work was now at an end.

Maroney is a laborer, I think, and McDonald is a black-smith. I got this information from Dillon, and we will learn how much truth there is in it later on."

Tonight information is derived from detective sources that J. D. Maroney, who was arrested in New York today, is a member of the Clan-na-Gael executive, that is to say, to the committee which governa the whole organization and of which Luke Dillon is a member. Maroney, it is claimed, has been identified by a salesman as the man who purchased the furniture which first went to Clark street and afterwards to the [Carlson cottage. The identification is represented as having been from a cabinet photograph of Maroney, This same Maroney, it is claimed, also has been identified as the person who rented the cottage. McDonald, the other New Yorker, was his companion. A man has been found, it is asserted, who will swear that Maroney and McDonald are the men who posted a letter at Hammond the day after the tragedy telling Carlson that the rent would be still forthcoming. THE BOARD OF TRADE DIS-CUSSES SEWERS.

Mayor Hazard and City Enginee Fred Eaton on Hand to Explain Matters-The Work Will Proba- Justice Jackson Temple. bly Be Done Under the Vrooman Act.

There was a meeting of citizens of East Los Angeles last night at Campbell's Hall under the auspices of the East Los Angeles Board of Trade, to consider the sewer question. The meeting was largely attended, and Mayor Hazard and City Engineer Eaton were present. Through a failure to receive invitation in time the City Council did not put in an appearance. President Joe Mesmer of the Board of Trade presided. The proceedings consisted of the explanation of the sewer plans for the East Side by Mr. Eaton, and questions by those present, together with a short address by the Mayor. The sewer work to be done by bonds in East Los Angeles, according to the additional amount agreed to be issued, consists of three main sewers to be constructed on Mozart, Kuhrts and Thomas streets, estimated to cost $35,-

Thomas streets, estimated to cost $35,000. This will be about 20 per cent. of the total amount of sewering to be done on the East Side, the rest to be paid for by direct levies.

After the plans had been examined informally the meeting was called to order, and the City Engineer was asked a number of questions about them.

He was requested to give his opinion as to the danger from the choking up of the sewers with the velocity to be obtained according to his plans, and said that he did not think there need be any fear on that score with the fall obtained. William Hughes stated that there was much dissatisfaction with the Vrooman act, and wanted to know whether the building of these sewers or these sewers could be handled in some other way.

Mr. Eaton replied that the question was one which the City Attorney could answer better than himself. If the Vrooman act takes precedence of the charter the work will be done under it. Judge Page asked the City Engineer to explain the proposed manner in which the sewer system is to be com-which the sewer system is to be completed.

Mr. Eaton replied that, after the mains are built by the bonds, it is then proposed to divide the city into small districts, and there will probably small districts, and there will probably be three or four in East Los Angeles. Then all the sewers in a district will be built by levies of assessments on the property in the district. He con-sidered that the Council can order the work done whenever necessary. The Vrooman act gives the authority to divide the city into sewer districts.

"Is it your opinion that the system will be carried out under the Vrooman act 2" saked lude here.

of the proposed lines could not run and Downey avenue.

Mr. Eaton said that the topography of East Los Angeles is not such as to warrant the location of these particular mains on Downey avenue. He had followed the natural drainage of the section. The idea in these three mains is to make their outlet into the river until the interceptors are completed.

Mr. Hamilton thought there would be much opposition to this.

Mr. Eaton explained that the water in the river is not used for domestic purposes. The idea is to start all the mains at once. The estimated cost of nains at once. The estimated cost of citizens should be to make a city. The principal question strangers ask is, "How's your sewer system?" He believed also in a sewer to the ocean.

Changing the subject, the Mayor spoke of the East Side Park, and urged immediate action in securing a strip of land between the reservoir and the park, owned by Dr. Griffin. He thought by proper action the East Side Park can be made one of the prettiest in the city. The city ought to trade other land for this strip, making in all about 100 acres in the park. Money had been spent generously on West-lake Park, and it is now the East Side's turn for an appropriation. He Side's turn for an appropriation. He urged the grading of Downey avenue to the park, and said the Cable Railway Company has agreed to run a line of cars to the park if the improvements cars to the park if the improvements are made.

The remarks of the Mayor were enthusiastically applauded, and were responded to by Mr. Page, who expressed himself as particularly gratified at the success of the meeting and the explanations which had been given. The people of the East Side wanted to know first if it is a good system, and then that the money voted will be judiciously and legitimately expended. He was especially gratified at the remarks of the Mayor in regard to the park. The East Side had not received any assistance toward it, but he believed the Council will give it a chance now to beautify the park.

After a vote of thanks to the Mayor and City Engineer for their presence the meeting adjourned.

Judge Van Dyke Recomn the Supreme Bench.
The second meeting of the Los Angeles Bar Association was held yesterday morning to take action in regard to the vacancy in the State Supreme

The meeting was held in Judge Shaw's courtroom, and was well attended. Judge Alexander Campbell acted as chairman of the meeting, and J. C. Macabe secretary.

There was very little preliminary iscussion. John Haynes alluded to discussion. John Haynes alluded to the fact of the vacancy, and proposed the name of Judge Walter Van Dyke, of Department No. 4 of the Superior Court, to be recommended by the bar of Los Angeles for the position. He briefly spoke of the legal attainments and high character of Judge Van Dyke.

The nomination was seconded by Charles Batcheller and Judge Ander was manifested in the proceedings.

It was resolved to at once commence advertising in all the papers, and to have a large banner painted and put on the building.

There was some discussion over the proper kind of coops for the display of the fowls, but a model was finally adopted, and a committee appointed to arrange for having them made, and also to put the hall in order.

Mr. Cooper, a poultry expert, was present, and offered to deliver a lecture on poultry culture under the auspices of the society, which offer was accepted, and Thursday night at 8 o'clock was fixed as the time for holding the same, the secretary being instructed to have the necessary advertising done.

Catalina Island. Yesterday morning Coroner Mere dith went over to Catalina Island to hold an inquest on the body of a young girl, named Alice Pack, aged 19 years, who was accidentally shot and killed purposes. The idea is to start all the mains at once. The estimated cost of the sewer system for the East Side, aside from the mains, is $130,000.

At this point there were calls for Mayor Hazard, and he addressed the meeting. Referring to the plans of Mr. Eaton he said that they had received the indorsement of practical engineers, the best in the United States, and when money is voted to build which the judgment of practical men has approved. He made a strong plea for the voting of the bonds, believing that nothing the city can do will be of as much importance to its growth and health as a fine sewer system. By the time the money is paid it will all come back in many ways. If the citizens could live a thousand years they might afford to wait. But life is short, and he believed that, while living, the efforts of good citizens should be to make a city. The principal question strangers ask is, "How's your sewer system?" HON. J. F. CRANK.

Movement to Tender Him a Ban quet.

There is a move on foot to banquet Hon. J. F. Crank at the California Club on Saturday evening. This tes-timonial is given in honor of his efforts in establishing the great cable system of Los Angeles, and it is expected that all of the most prominent citizens in the city will take a hand. A petition was quite extensively circu-lated yesterday, and no one hesitated to sign it.

It is understood that during the ban at is understood that during the ban-quet an attempt will be made to in-duce Mr. Crank to take hold of the Los Angeles, Utah and Salt Lake road, as the people have come to the conclusion that some live, energetic man must be put to work on this scheme or it will was followed by Judge Towner of Santa Ana, who spoke for an hour and a half, and presented a forcible argument for the defendants. He pretty generally reviewed all the points mad Judge Chapman, and read more fully from a number of authorities which had been cited by Judge Hutton. He went pretty fully into the nature of quo warranto proceedings, and took the position that they are not proper in this case. He also combatted the idea that the Legislature in passing this act had delegated any of its powers to the people that should not have been delegated. He argued that the act to create the county of Orange took effect from the moment the Governor signed it. If that is not so, this case was brought against the so, this case was brought against the defendants before the law took effect, which would be an absurdity. If it defendants before the law took effect, which would be an absurdity. If it did not so take effect from and after its passage, why is this case in court? he continued. The law was in effect after passage, but took effect as those affected after the election just held, which is a very different thing. The Legislature said in effect that theywere willing for the people to have a new county, and provide by this act the necessary machinery by which it can be done.

Mr. Towner went into the question of the right of the Legislature to provide by an act for a contingency that might never take place. He held that it could do so, and it was a proper provision to say that in the event that less than two-thirds of the people voted at the election against the new county, the act was to be of no force or effect. He did not consider the act passed with these provisions a delega-county, the act was to be of no force or effect. He did not consider the act passed with these provisions a delegation of its powers, but a measure of expediency over which the Legislature had full control.

He then referred at length to the different allegations in the argument of the other side, that the act violates the provisions of the Constitution in regard to special legislation, and that general laws could have been made applicable in this case. He said that, while these allegations had been made, counsel had failed to put their fingers on any language in the act violating this principle. It provides for the election of certain officers, but the offices already exist. All the act does is to give the county a legal existence, and place it as a subdivision under the general laws of the State. As to the applicability of a general law, it is for the Legislature to determine in this case, whether or not its purpose can be best accomplished by a general of special law. It is evident that it was the intention of the Constitutional Convention to leave the time there was a law to the way. In the or, that the substance of their was a clause requiring the submission of county division questions to the entire county, but that clause was stricken out before the adoption of the section, and it was done on a motion made by a member from Los Angeles county.

The speaker then went on to argue about the functions of the commissioners appointed by the Governor, and claimed that the sum and substance of their duties was to call two stance of their duties was to call two elections. Referring to the provisions for adjusting the indebtedness of Los for adjusting the indebtedness of Los Angeles county between the two coun-ties, he said that it did not matter whether the provisions of the act were constitutional or not, the law is self-executing, and Los Angeles county would have a legitimate claim under the general laws to be adjudicated upon. There might he a better plan upon. There might be a better plan than that provided by the act; if so, that is a question for the future and that is a question for the future and has nothing to do with the case. And, in regard to the classification of the new county, if the provision in the act is unconstitutional the matter will be governed by the general law on the subject. He believed the objections to most of the provisions of the act by opposing counsel not pertinent: He believed the court had only two questions upon court had only two questions upon which to adjudicate, first, had the Legislature power to create the county of Orange? and, if so, is the machinery provided to perfect the organization provided to perfect the organization legal?

Attorney Luckel followed Judge Towner, and occupied the remainder of the afternoon in a general review of the points advanced by counsel for the defendants. He took up the act section by section, and contended for the unconstitutionality of many of its provisions.

provisions. His argument concluded the long hearing of this important matter, and the Court will take the case under ad visement. Able arguments were made on both sides.

MRS. BALDEN. A Case That Almost Nonplused the

Monday afternoon a complaint was

A warrant was issued, and an officer sent out to bring Mrs. Balden into court, but when he arrived at the house he found that the put to work on this scheme or it will never be carried out.

The people of this city know what a big thing this will be for Los Angeles and they are not willing to let it drop if they can prevent it. THE SOUTH END.

It Will Also Have a Board of Trade.

Boards of trade and chambers of commerce are organizing all over the city, and from general indications they will make things very warm for the city Council as soon as they get "a good ready."

This evening the citizens in the neighborhood of Washington street will meet in A.O.U.W. Hall, on the corner of Laurel and Main street, for the purpose of organizing a board of trade. Some of the best men in the city have signed the call, and a rousing meeting will be held.

THE COLORED BRIGADE. They Did Not Accept Jacobs's Reselution.

One of the liveliest meetings ever held in the city was held in Judge Austin's courtroom last night. Louis I. Jacobs, a more or less prominent colored Democratic politician, had Towner and Attorney Luckel inserted a notice in yesterday morning's papers for a meet-ing of the colored people to protest against the appointment of R. C. O. Benjamin as Consul to Antigua. Benjamin is something of a schemer himself, and he no sooner saw Jacobs's notice than he determined to circumvent him and capture the meeting himself by running in his friends. Ac-cordingly at 8 o'clock last night about cordingly at 8 o'clock last night about 50 colored men gathered in the courtroom. Jacobs had got wind of how the ground lay, and did not at first intend to go upstairs, but was finally persuaded to do so, and made his appeaarnce with a pocketful of resolutions which he had prepared for the occasion. He took the chair and announced that the meeting would be dispersed, when Twine, another politician, took him to task for calling the meeting without authority. Jacobs then said he would read his resolutions and adjourn the meeting, as he saw that it was put up to break his al points after court convened, and saw that it was put up to break his back.

The meeting declined to hear the resolutions, when Jacobs started in to turn out the lights and succeeded in turn out the lights and succeeded in getting all out but one, when he was hustled out amid great noise and confusion, which for a time looked as though it would result in a small-sized riot. After Jacobs had been ejected the meeting organized by the election of G. W. Hawkins chairman and George Wren secretary, and several members made speeches eulogistic of Benjamin. In the midst of the proceedings Jacobs again came in and tried to turn out the gas, when he was bonneed and more speeches were bounced and more speeches were made for Benjamin, after which three cheers were given for that individual and the meeting adjourned. Benjamin worked the matter very smoothly and did not show up until everything was in running order when he transpared. ning order, when he appeared and made a speech.

PREPARATIONS FOR THE SAN DIEGO BLOW-OUT.

A Carload of Produce Going East for the Flood Sufferers-Santa Fe Men Working for a Strike-The Southern Pacific's Withdrawal

The Santa Fé people are busily engaged preparing for the reception of the China steamers which will arrive in San Diego early in July. As soon as these big ocean steamers reach the harbor the tug of war will begin, and the railroad people will have their hands full until they get accustomed to handling so much freight. San Diego is making great preparations for the reception of the Los Angeles excursionists who will go down to duly celebrate the occasion. The Santa Fé Company will run trains down in time to meet the ocean monsters, and a general good time is promised all who go down, for the San Diego people are experts when it comes to making things pleasant for their manual control of their states.

Today the Santa Fé will send a carload of articles that have been donated for the benefit of the Johnstown sufferers, East. The car is loaded with canned fruits, wines, etc.

It seems that the employes of the Santa Fé on this coast are determined to get up a strike before they are willing to settle down to business. There was a great deal of quiet kicking going on yesterday on account of the new time table, which goes into effect in a few days. It is understood that a number of men will be let out, as several trains will be discontinued, and the men have got it into their heads that the whole thing is a piece of spite work on the part of the managers simply because the brakemen and baggagemen would not consent to a cut of $5 a month. The men have been very uneasy for some time, and even some of the high officials are not exactly easy regarding their positions. The newly-elected officers have not yet declared themselves, but it is expected that they will put on their war paint very soon now and get things in running order once more.

Said Agent Lee of the Canadian Pacific today: "The Transcontinental Association is broken up higher than a kite by the withdrawal of the Southern Pacific. Of course they withdrew because we were getting so much tariff, but I don't see how it is going to help them at all. They thareaten all manner of things in the way of reduced rates, but they forget that we will meet their rates or those of any one else. We have not worked up our present business for the purpose of giving it away. I think we are in the beginning of a very interesting time in transcontinental affairs. We have no tariff now, and will probably liè low until we see what the Southern Pacific will do."

Reasons for Encouragement-The Reasons for Encouragement—The Material Outlook.

[Ventura Free Press.]

The people of Ventura and Ventura county have no occasion for despondency, at present or for the future. On the other hand, they have every reason to feel hopeful for a rapidly-growing prosperity.

There is not in this town a suitable building to be had for a dry goods or a building to be had for a dry goods or a first-class grocery store, neither are vacant buildings conspicuous for their numbers. There are vacant buildings, but they are of the smaller class and generally not very desirable tenements; but such as they are they command good prices.

but they are of the smaller class and generally not very desirable tenements; but such as they are they command good prices.

Our people are out of debt and with every assurance of a bountful harvest in the fall. Verily, this is a land of plenty. It is true there are at present but few industries employing labor. There soon will be, however, and when they are once inaugurated, they will grow in numbers and volume until Ventura county shall become known the whole country over for the nature and value of its productions. Chief among these enterprises at present is the oil industry, but another is developing which will soon rival, if not surpass it, as far as benefits to the county are concerned. This industry is now developing by the Ventura Asphalt Company. They have already demonstrated that the quality of the asphaltum now taking out of this quarry in this county is of the highest grade known, being richer in bitumen than the best asphalts of Europe or Trinidad, while as an asphaltic cement it has greater cohesive and tenacious qualities than any other known deposit of asphaltum. The demand for it is rapidly growing and will soon require a railroad track, with cars and locomotives, to bring it out of the quarry. As this demand increases, other beds will be developed, for there are many deposits of it in this vicinity. Already one or two other rich finds have been made, and the Ventura asphalt will soon be as famous as the Trinidad, and will lead the world. Next comes the beautiful granites and sandstones of the county. The Sespe granite is of excellent quality and is finding a market where great strength and beauty of finish is desired, while the brown sandstone of the Ventura, the Matilija and Ojai valleys will furnish contractors in the chief cities of the State with a first class material for all classes of work requiring strength and durability. All of these industries require labor, and full grown manual labor, too, and a great deal of it—more in proportion to the capital invested than almost any other en farm, the dairy and the orchard. These industries are sure to grow and prosper as business revives and the State is developed. One of the wealthiest contractors and builders of the State has purchased the Rose quarries near town and will at once put on a large force of men working the same, and will ship the first output of the quarries to San Francisco. Mr. Brady, the purchaser, who is acquainted with the quality of stone in the State is satisfied that the hown sandstone of the Venturs Valley is the best in the State anywhere. With such resources now in the line of development, and with the quality and cheapness of our lands and the height fulness and salurity of our climate we have everything to hope for any nothing to party of our selves.

G.A.R. ENCAMPMENT.

Council of Administration Making Arrangements.
There was a meeting of the Council of Administration, Seventh Inspection day afternoon at G.A.R. headquarters, District Commander Melvin Mudge in the chair. The question of music for the encampment was discussed and the Adjutant was requested to advertise for bids for twelve pieces for field music and five pieces for orchestra music for the ten days of the encampment.

The resignation of O. H. Violet was accepted, and Maj. J. A. Donnell was elected to fill the vacancy.

The 15th of August was assigned to John A. Logan Post to furnish a programme of entertainment, and the 17th to the Citizens' Committee of San Pedro.

Pedro.
The W.B.C. of the entire district were voted a day to be selected by them.
A committee was appointed consisting of M. F. Tarble, W. J. Brown and L. H. Whitson, to receive bids and let the various privileges on the grounds, during the encampment.

A dispatch received yesterday from J. R. Zimmerman, telegraph operator at Islets, N. M., is as follows: "Lum-mis very weak; has a high fever and is helpless."

This confirms the worst reports that have thus far been received, and Mr. Lummia's friends and associates here have fears that they will never see him again alive.

SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE FOR CATARRH.

Complete External and Internal Treatment for One Dellar. Treatment for the Deliar.

To be freed from the dangers of suffocation while lying down; to breathe freely, sleep soundly and undisturbed; to rise refreshed, head clear, brain active and free from pain or ache; to know that no poisonous, putrid matter define the breath and rots away the delicate machinery of smell, taste, and hearing; to feel that the system does not, through its veins and arteries, suck up the poison that is sure to undermine and destroy, is indeed a blessing beyond most human enjoyments. To purchase immunity from such a fate sure to undermine and destroy, is indeed a blessing beyond most human enjoyments. To purchase immunity from such a fate should be the object of all afflicted. But those who have tried many remedies and physicians despair of rolled or cure. Sanvorn's Rabical Cure meets every phase of Catarrh, from a simple head cold to the most loatsnoome and destructive stages. Heaving, permanent activities, and rarely falling. Instant in relieving, permanent activities, and rarely falling.

Sanford's Radical Cure

VER.

The outlook for an improvement in the silver market was never better than it is at present. This is very encouraging for all who are interested in the prosperity of the Coast. If we are asked what two things would con duce more than all others to add to our prosperity, we would say, the irrigation of our arid lands and the restoration of silver-to its old place.

England controls the silver market of the world, and the fact that England has stood out stubbornly for the single standard has been one of the greatest obstacles with which the ilver men have had to contend hitherto. Now, however, the move ment to restore silver to the place which it once occupied is growing in that country every day. The change has been brought about chiefly by English farmers, who find that the demonetization of silver has cheapened Indian products, which are sole at the old prices in silver. Our agricultural interest has suffered in the same way in foreign markets, where it has to meet competition from Hindoostan.

In addition to this the finances of India are becoming seriously demoral-ized by the decline in the value of silver, most of its revenues being col-lected in that metal. It has been calculated that every drop in the price of the English Government, to induce it this, backed by the demands of the agriculturists, is likely soon to have me effect. England, the Latin Union, and the Inited States can restore silver to its ormer position, whenever they decide reasonable ratio between silver and gold'should, of course, be agreed upon. We do not wish to be understood as saying that the United States and other governments should declare that 75 cents' worth of silver is worth a dollar in gold. That would be neither practicable nor desirable. All that is sked for is that any government, to begin with, should assume a friendly ttitude toward silver, in place of th unfriendly one which has prevailed for many years, at the instigation of the Wall street gold bugs, and that our government shall then invite England and the Latin Union to act in conjunction for the purpose of deciding on a safe and reasonable plan which shall do justice both to silver and gold.

BIRDS AND MEN.

It has been observed that every hu nan being has his counterpart in the bird creation. We speak of a person a silly goose, of another we say that he is as proud as a turkeycock, or as vain as a peacock. The owl, from its grave. sedate manner, is called the bird of wisdom, and the judge upon the bench is often likened unto him. The eagle s a noble, a far-sighted and an aristo cratic bird, and the ostrich a great gor mandizer, in these respects resembling ome men. The fair sex are some times likened to doves because of their gentleness. Some are cheerful as the lark; others as garrulous as magpies. The cuckoo also finds his counterpart in the human family, as does likewise the bloody shrike or butcher bird. The buzzard, as he sits upon the lonely fence awaiting some carrion upon which to gorge his voracious maw, is and wealthy. They do nothing for the community; their sole occupation consists in patiently waiting for the misfortunes of their fellows in order that they may devour the effete remains of ruined fortunes. These are the buzzards of society. They can be numbered upon one's fingers, or if ot, then upon one's fingers and toes. Like the ravenous bird they imitate they are growing fewer every year, and will eventually, without regret.

become extinct. The gloomy croaking raven likewise has its imitator in the human family He is generally loud in his complaints. and his croaking is most frequently heard in those places of business where no capital, other than 'cheek, is re quired. Sad and sepulchral like the raven, he would impart his character to all with whom he comes in con-These are the ravens, the black and croaking ravens of society, So we might enumerate all the characteristics of the human species and find a counterpart in the feathered tribes for every qualification OUR GREAT MINERAL RESOURCES

We publish today, by the courtesy of David T. Day, Chief of the Division of Mining Statistics and Technology of the United States Geological Survey, a valuable summary of the sixth report on "The Mineral Resources of he United States." The summary is furnished, in advance of the regular publication of the report, by an arrangement with the Associated Press It shows that the total product of minerals in this country, for the year 1888, was $591,659,931, being nearly $50,000,000 more than for the previous WHEN is work to commence on that year. A falling off in pigiron was more than counterbalanced by a large increase in the copper output, stimu prevailing price,

AN UN-AMERICAN SOCIETY.

Referring to the statement of a witless in the Cronin case, at Chicago that there was nothing in the Clan-na-Gael that imposed upon members du-ties inconsistent with their obligations as citizens of the United States, "ex cept that a case might arise in which a member would be bound to violate the neutrality laws," the Sacramento Record-Union says:

The admission of the witness ought to bring the society under the reproach of all good citizens. Probably we cannot enact laws to reach the association that fosters ideas inimical to good citizenship. The most we can do is to do as we did with the Anarchists, await some overtact and then punish the perpetrator. But there is no reason why Americans should not brand with their outspoken condemnation any set of men, or any individual who hold membership in any organization, secret or set of men, or any individual who hold membership in any organization, secret or open, that crosses the duty of the citizen, and sets up an authority they are to obey, though the action shall compel them to violate the law of the country that gives them shelter. We have had enough, too much, of these foreign political plottings upon our soil, and we have for charity's sake submitted too long to the imposition of associations only possible with and protected by our laws, that are schemes of emmity against powers with which we are at peace, and which protect our citizens abroad. It is full time that all this Clan-na-Gael and like plotting should cease within the confines of the United States. Gael and like plotting should cea the confines of the United States.

NEW YORK has raised $40,000 to ward its proposed $100,000 memorial silver of 'a penny knocks a million arch. An anxious correspondest pounds out of India's revenue. It is writes to one of the papers to say that therefore not wonderful that India is he has heard that this new monument bringing powerful influence to bear on "will not be quite as big" as the Arch of Triumph in Paris, and to express to return to the double standard, and an opinion that, if New York is to build an arch at all, it should build bigger than any other city, and that therefore the supscriptions should be raised to $150,000, if necessary, whereupon the Boston Journal informs him that the Parisian Arch of Triumph to do so. It is only by international cost $2,000,000. New York will have effort that it can be so restored. A matter of monuments before it can hope to possess anything worthy to compare with the masterpieces of Europe. Witness the niggardly subscriptions raised in that city toward the proposed Grant monument.

IT is said by those who have spent years there that the domain of the Comanches, comprising nearly three millions of acres in the southwest corner of the Indian Territory, is infinitely superior to Oklahoma. If half that is said about it is true, this must be a veritable paradise. There are said to be mountains and plains and beautiful valleys, grass, shrubbery and timber, in great abundance; deer. antelopecand plenty of smaller game Lovely streams wind through the valeys, and fragrant wild flowers bloom nearly all the year round. It will probably not be long before there is a ove to throw this El Dorado open to settlement.

THE jury in the Cronin case has brought in a verdict of murder against Alexander Sull van. This will tend to make Irish secret secteties a little more careful in trying, condemnie to death and putting out of the way per-sons who possess inconvenient information about them.

There is nothing in such a development to call for any in such a development to call for any special comment, and certainly nothing to justify the captions speeds of the to justify the captions sneers of the Tribune. Nature has so ordered the many estimable attributes which enter into the composition of Col. If the individual praised is a one-horse country lawyer, he is made to feel immediately that Lord Mansfield was a sort of a plod-ding close.

praised is a one-horse country lawyer, he is made to feel immediately that Lord Mansfield was a sort of a plodding clown, and Erskine a second-rate forensic pleader, in the comparison. This really does no harm. It leaves Mansfield and Erskine just where they were; while it titillates the country lawyer to the point of positive intoxication. Col. Kearney's praise reaches the point of glamour. praise reaches the point of glamour if, instead of the subject of his versa tile pen being a lawyer, he should hap-pen to be a soldier, then Achilles, Julius Cæsar, Alexander the Great and Napoleon Bonaparte are the only par-allels that the generous and apprecia-tive soul of the genial San Bernardino tive soul of the genial San Bernardino editor will admit of as germane to the occasion. He doubtless does this on the principle of a great London actor of two generations ago, who was caught giving a guinea to a beggar. He excused himself, as would doubtless Col. Kearney; by the remark, "I seldom do these things; but, when I do, I do them handsomely." The effusive and generous spirit of Col. Kearney, when it essays the role of "taffy," does not propose to be niggardly while literary glucose is so cheap in the market.

It would look as if the journal which, some time ago, took "a step forward" by ensmalling, and afterward took a step backward by enlarging into the realms of barnyard expenses of unlimited advertisements for nothing, really regretted the unbending into amiability of the great Boanerges of slang and personalities. For our part, we welcome all the evidences we can get of the advance of that spirit in the profession which was one crystallized in the aphorism: "When gentlemen

Until com-missioners are appointed, Scott has vol-inteered his services, and will render all the assistance in his power."

unteered his services, and will render all the assistance in his power."
Quartermaster Baker started out four men today to canvass Johnstown proper in order to classify those needing provisions. Tonight the men turned in 1187 names, and the city was not nearly all visited. Baker said a surprising amount of needs was unearthed. A great many ladies were found whose wasts were really pressing and who had falled through a sense of delicacy to apply for aid. The humility of seeking relief is removed by it now being introduced. The expectation is that food and clothing which have been going in large lots to undeserving persons will now go to the more respectable and retiring class.

CHICAGO, June 11.—[By the Associated Press.] The Morning Herald of today will advance the theory that John Walsh, some times known as John Hanley, the famous Invincible, had a hand in the murder, and that the assassination was ordered from across the water. Walsh was in Chicago several veeks prior to the murder of Dr. Cronin. He was seen here at various times until the middle of February; he said nothing about He was seen here at various times until the middle of February; he said nothing about his business. Waish was accompanied by Philip McCarthy of Chicago. Walsh aided in the escape of the Fenians from Australia in the Catalpa in 1867. Walsh was selected for this dangerous task because of his great strength and iron nerve. When he returned to America he begame possessed of the idea that the Irishmen of the world owed him a living and he acted accordingly. From that time to the present he has done no manual work. Walsh is an athletic. Though nearly 50 years of age he does not look to be more than 35. He stands 5 feet 11 inches in height, and can handle an ordinary man with the greatest of ease. Walsh was the trusted agent of the Invincibles and was assighed by them to perform dangerous work. He made six trips to England. When the Clav-na-Gael passed into the hands of the famous triangle Walsh was pressed into service. Acting, it is said, under direction, Walsh made a protracted visit to Ireland and England, returning with valuable information. While there he went by the name of John Hanley. There is no record of Walsh's work for the triangle in the United Stytes, but there are numerous stories which associate his name with the disappearance of many men.

METALS. and Steel.—The principal statistics s were: Domestic iron ore consumed about 12,060,000 leng tons; value at mines, $23,944,000. This is an increase over 1887 in quantity of 760,000 tons, but a decrease in value of $4,956,000. Imported iron ore consumed, 587,470 long tons; total iron ora consumed in 1888, about 12,650,000 long tons, or 150,000 tons more than in 1887. Pigiron made in 1888, 6,489,788 long tons; value at furnace, $107,000,000. This is an increase over 1887 of 72,590 tons in quantity, but a decrease of $14,925,800 in value. Steel of all kinds produced in 1888, 2,899,440 leng tons; value at works, $89,000,000. This is a decrease from 1887 of 489,631 tons in quantity and of $14,811,000 in value. Total spot value of all iron and steel made in 1888, in the first stage of manufacture, excluding all duplications, $145,000,000, a decrease of $26,103,000 as compared with 1887. Limestone used as a flux in the manufacture of pig-iron in 1888, about 5,488,000 long tons; value at quarry, about $2,719,000.

Gold and Silver.—According to the Director of the Mint, the gold product was 1,504,927 fine ounces, valued at $33,175,000.

This is about the same as in 1857, being an excess of only $75,000. The silver product was 45,783,632 fine ounces, of the commercial value of about $43,000,000 and of the coining value of $59,195,000. This is an increase of 4,515,327 ounces over the product in 1887. In addition to the product of our own mines some 10,000,000 ounces of silver were extracted in the United States from iron made in 1888, 6,489,738 long tons; val were extracted in the United States from foreign ores and builton.

Copper.—The total product, including the yield of imported ores, increased to 281,-270,622 pounds, or 115,635 short tons, during 1888, which is 46,053,291 pounds more than the product of 1887. During the first quarter of 1889 the production was increasing at even a more rapid rate. The prices received by American productrers averaged 15½ cents per pound for Lake copper, 14½ for Arizona and 14 for other districts; making the total value $33,853,954. Montana led in the production, making 97,897,968 pounds. Consumption was somewhat reduced by the high prices.

Lead.—The product increased to 180,555 ort tons from 160,700 tons in 1887. The about tons from 160,700 tons in 1887. The increase was due principally to the heavier receipts of lead in Mexican silver-lead ores from 15,000 tons in 1887 to over 27,000 tons in 1888. The average price in New York was 4.41 cents per pound. The production of white lead, chiefly from pig lead, was 95,000 short tons, valued at $16,630,000.

Zing.—The erection of new works and the extension of old ones led to a forther works and the extension of old ones led to a forther works and the extension of old ones led to a forther works and the extension of old ones led to a forther works. The additions to capacity were fairly uniformly distributed in the West, East and South. Production in 1888, 55,903 short tons, with a total value of $5,500,855; in 1887, 50,340 tons, worth $4,782,300. The production of zinc white in 1888, directly an ores, was 20,000 short tons, worth 6,00,000.

Quickstoer.—The product was 33,250

n ores, was 20,000 short tons, worth 6,00,000.

Quickstluer. — The product was 33,250 flasks (of 76½ pounds each) from California, a decline in that State of 510 flasks from 1887 in spite of a very satisfactory price, which average $42.50 per flask, making the total value $1,413,125. No new valuable deposits were discovered in 1888, and without them it is not probable that the yield of quicksilver will increase.

Nickel.—The industry remains unchanged except for indications of further development at Lovelock in Nevada and Riddle, Or. The product includes 190,637 pounds of metallic nickel, valued at $11,382 at 60 cents per pound, and 4545 pounds, worth $1136, exported in ores and matte. Total value, $115,513. The corresponding value in 1887 was $133,200.

Cobalt oxide.—The total product, including the contents of the exported ores and matte, was 12,366 ounds, worth $18.441. In ing the contents of the exported ores and matte, was 12,266 pounds, worth $18,441. In 1887 the total was 18,340 pounds, worth $18,774, the lower rate of value in that year resulting from a larger proportion of exported nickel in matte and ore. The price of cobait oxide remsined at $2 per pound. Chromium.—The product declined from 3000 tons in 1887 to 1500 tons in 1888. The average price in San Francisco remained $15 per ton. Increased operations are probable in 1889.

average price in San Francisco remained $15 per fon. Increased operations are probable in 1889.

Manyanese.—The product of manganese and mankaniferous iron ores in the United $24876,215. Of this amount some 25,500 tons would be classed as manganese ores; the remainder as manganiferous iron ores. Of the manganiferous iron ores 11,462 tons. averaging 11 per cent. of manganese, and 189,674 tons averaging 4 per cent. of manganese, and 189,674 tons averaging 4 per cent. of manganese, and 189,674 tons averaging 4 per cent. of manganese ores, valued at $10 a ton, chiefly for the sliver contained in them, were produced in the Rocky Mountain region.

Aluminum.—The past year was more promising than ever before for the production of cheap aluminum. The production of metallic aluminum as an industry distinct from the preduction of alloys began toward the close of the year, and 500 pounds had been made up to December 31st; the production of 3000 pounds since then indicates that the industry may continue. The exact amount of alloys produced by the Cowles process has not been furnished, but was not markedly different from the product of 1887, when 18,000 pounds of aluminum contained in bronze and ferro aluminum declined to as low as $4.50 per pound for less favored brands.

Platinum.—Including the platinum and irridium separated from gold by the assay offices and that saved in placer gold mining the product was about 500 ounces, valued at $2000.

FUELS.

Coal.—The total production of all kinds of commercial coal in 1868 was 142,037,735 over 1887, 4,045,885 long tons), or 4,610,365 short tons (increase 4.531,367 short tons); it other coals, 102,030,838 short tons (increase 14,152,478 tons), making the total output of all coals from mines in the United States, exclusive of slack coal thrown on the dumps, 148,659,402 short tons (increase 13,683,845 tons), valued as follows: Anthracite $80,002,485 (increase, $4,463,302); bituminous, $122,497,341 (increase, $24,492,-685); total value $21,517,824 (increase, $24,492,-685); total value $21,517,824 (increase, $28,-960,987). The above figures show a notable increase in 1888 over 1887 in the aggregate output and value of both anthracite and bituminous coal, although not as great an increase as occurred in 1887 ever 1886 in the value of the anthracite, or of the total tonage of the bituminous coal.

Coke.—The production of coke in the United States in 1888 was $,537,560 tons, valued at about $14,000,000. Pennsylvania produced by far the largest amount, the Connellsville region alone producing 4,965,563 tons; West Virginia, 528,533 tons; Alabama, 518,511 tons: Tennessee, 385,695 tons, and Virginia, 149,099 tons.

Petroleum.—The product of petroleum in the United States in 1888 was 27,346,018 barrels (of 42 gallons each), valued at about $24,508,550. Of this amount Pennsylvania produced 16,941,088 barrels; California, 704,610 barrels; and other States 20,000 barrels.

Natural Gas.—The amount of natural gas consumed is given in coal displacement; that is, the amount of coal displaced by the use of natural gas. It is estimated that the amount of coal displaced by the use of natural gas in the United States in 1888 was 14,163,830 tons, were displaced in Pennsylvania; 730,000 tons in Ohio, and 660,000 tons in Indiana.

Building Stone.—Direct returns from producers of the various kinds of building stone show that there was but a small gain in value over the figures of 1887. The value of the stone produced in 1888 is $25,500,000, or $500,000 more than in the preceding year. Brick and Tile.—Value, $48,213,000. This figure represents only a small gain over 1887. This is due rather to increase in the number of manufacturing plants than to increased production at the older and more important sources of supply; in fact, many of the latter show a falling off in production. Prices also were generally somewhat lower than in 1887.

Line.—The production is estimated at 49,087,000 barrels, with an average value of 50 cents per barrel, making a total of $24,-543,500 as the value of the year's product. These figures are not largely in advance of those for 1887, and the gains are not so much the results of increased production in the leading lime regions as in localities of minor importance.

Cement.—The amount of cement produced in 1888 is less than for 1887, being 6,253,295 barrels for 1888, valued at 72% cents per barrel, making 4,533,639 as the value of the year's product.

Totals.—The total value of minerals produced in 1888 was $591,659,931. It is recognized that this is the sum of the values of substances taken in various stages of manufacture and hence not strictly comparable with each other; still it is the most valuable means for comparing the total products of the product in 1887. In that year nearly every mineral industry showed an increase of nearly $50,000,000 beyond the value of the product in 1887. In that year nearly every mineral industry showed an increase of nearly $50,000,000 beyond the value of the product in 1887. In that year nearly every mineral industry showed an increase of the product in 1887. In that year nearly every mineral industry showed an increase of the product in 1889. A Shooting Tournament.
CINCINNATI, June 11.—At the first tournament of the American Shooting Association, which opened today, nine regular matches were shot, all at inanimate targets. There were four moneys on each match. An interesting novelty of the tournament is that it is the first to adopt the system of classification of the shooter so as to prevent amateurs from becoming the prey of experts. In this it is apparently successful.

AFFAIRS AT SEATTLE.

Militia Withdrawn Only to B Quickly Recalled. SEATTLE (Wash.), June 11.—[By the Associated Press.] It was decided this morning by Mayor Moran that the militia could be withdrawn, as they were anxious to return home and care for their business interests. The city was placed in charge of the police, and the militia was for a time relieved from duty. As soon, however, as it was found that the militia was off duty relieved from duty. As soon, however, as it was found that the militax was off duty hundreds of people began to flock into the burnt district and dig into the ruins. The police tried to combain the movement and drive the crowd out, but were utterly unable to accomplish anything, and the troops were compelled to restore order with fixed bayonets. The National Guard is again in charge of the city.

Money is pouring in without solicitation. Word was received today from San Francisco that $10,000 was at the disposal of the people of Seattle, and Virginia City has placed $4000 to the credit of the Relief Committee in a San Francisco bank. Olympia sent $10,000 today, and cities from all over the Pacific Coast are being heard from. Individual contributions from all parts of the United States have been heavy.

THE VINE PEST.

Viticultural Officer Wheeler's Report of His Investigation.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 11.—[By the Associated Press.] The semi-annual meeting of the Board of State Viticultural Commissions. Wheeler, late chief executive of the board, read a report on the Los Angeles vine disease. The report stated that the fungus read a report on the Los Angeles vine disease. The report stated that the fungus which is common to all diseased vines in Los Angeles county is the agent which performs the finishing work of destruction. The application of a fungicide arrests the decline of the affected plant, but the cure is not permanent. In the northern part of the State this fungus had obtained a foothold. Investigation showed no cause for alarm in San Diego and San Bernardino counties. No disease was found in the Riverside vineyards, but in Los Angeles county no vineyards were exempt from the trouble.

The Report says: "The first cause of the evil is yet to be found, and until then vineyardists must operate with the Bordeaux mixtures. The American varieties continue to grow in the infected regions. The Lenoir and Isabella may be safely planted in infected counties."

Mr. Wheeler advocates the establishment of experimental vineyards.

Commissioner Rose described the progress and extent of the disease to vines. The chief executive officer was requested to visit the infected districts as early as possible. It was decided to hold the Grape Growers' Convention this summer, probably in August.

The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President and chief executive officer, Charles Wetmore; vice-president, T. E. D. Turk; treasurer, Gharles Krug; secretary, C. B. Tussill.

The list of the police force has been carefully compared with the Great Register, and there are but three names on it that are not registered. Quite a number, however, have only got their certificates recently, and if the rule is enforced in regard to being voters at the time of their appointment, it is claimed that fifteen to eighteen will have to go. Our Country.

Have we not learned that not stocks, nor bonds, nor stately houses, nor land, nor products of mill or field make our sounts. nor products of mill or field make our country? It is a spiritual thought that is in our minds. It is the glorious flag and what it stands for. It is its glorious history. It is the freside and the home. It is the larger thoughts that are in the heart, born of the inspiration which comes from the story of the fathers of our country, the martyrs to liberty. It is the graveyard into which our tearful country has gathered the unconscious dust of those who died here in the United States—it is these things that we love and call our country.

How, Indeed!

A lady friend sends us the following under heading of "Advice to Wives," with the request that we give it publication. We cheerfully comply:

If you have a husband who doesn't use tobacco or strong drink, and does not gamble or play billiards or pool, you should consider you had an exception of a man. If your husband has some faults, you should remember that none of us are perfect. Suppose that instead of your husband being free from all the above, he has them all, and even more, how would you feel?

PASADENA. June 11.-[Correspondence of THE TIMES.] The City Board of Trustees met in adjourned session at 3:30 o'clock this afternoon. Present, McLean, Throop and President Parker. Absent, Clerk Cambell and Councilman Townsend.

Mr. McLean was appointed clerk pro tem. The reading of the minutes of the previous session was dispensed with and the regular order of business suspended.

The bill of the Union Printing Company for printing the financial statement, amounting to $152.50, was referred without discussion to the Committee on Auditing and Finance.
Chairman Throop of the Fire and Water Committee informed the board there would be a meeting of the same committee at 4 o'clock on Wednesday afternoon.

The trouble grew out of the arrest of Brent at the instance of Haney, who accuses him of opening and maintaining a saloon in a secreted room and thus breaking the anti-sation orand thus breaking the anti-sation ordinance. The Enforcement Committee has offered a reward for the arrest of any one guilty of breaking this ordinance. Brent got it into his head that Haney was after the reward, hence the trouble. Both of the men were placed under arrest and taken to the lock-up. Brent put up $10 bail for his appearance and Haney was discharged after the Prosecuting Attorney had taken his evidence. The case has created more excitement than anything that has occurred in Pasadena for some time and the chances are that some sensational developments will be brought out.

Peter Klehn, proprietor of the Los Angeles House, was arrested this afternoon by Marshal McLean for violation of the anti-saloon ordinance.

John Lindsay has made application to be admitted to practise in the courts of this county. The Zourt has appointed Attorneys Wright, Hester and Arthur to examine the applicant.

Miss Gertrude Britain and John B. Burden were joined in the bands of matrimony last evening, at the residence of P. W. Hurndall, on Henrietta Court. The knot was tied in the presence of the immediate relatives and friends by the Rev. G. A. Ottmann, rector of All Saints' Episcopal Church.

THE CELESTIALS. The 14 Chinamen, who were arrested by Marshal McLean last Saturday evening for gambling, had a hearing this morning before Justice Van Doren. After two hours had been consumed in arguing the case, Mr. Knox, attorney for the Celestials, moved for a change of venue, which was granted. The case has been reset for trial before Justice Vanderlip, at Lamanda Park, one week from the coming Friday. No Trace of the Perpetrators of the San Jose Robbery.

| Chiet of Police Crowley, Wells, Fargo & Co.'s detectives, and Chief Brown of Los Angeles are searching anxiously for some trace of Frank B. Chandon, who induced the express company's cashier at San José to cash a forged check for $4800.

Chandon appeared in San José about the 23d of May, and in company with a comrade and a San José clerk who had known him in Los Angeles, presented a check at Wells, Fargo & Co.'s office upon the Crocker-Woodworth Bank of this city, bearing the signature of Mrs. Margaret E. Crocker, and made payable to Charles Gaulof Los Angeles. The snigature of Mrs. Crocker was genuine, and the check bore the indorsement of Charles Gaul.

Chandon represented himself as being a real-estate agent of Los Angeles, and said he needed the money, as he was going to stay in San José for a time. He gave as an excuse for not cashing the check here that he had intended returning directly home, but had changed his mind. After being identified by the clerk who was known to Reid, the cashier, the check was paid, and Chandon made a bluff at leaving the bulk on deposit. He, of course, knew that this could not be done. He and his comrade disappeared that night and nothing has been heard of them since.

When the check was sent to the bank The reading led to a general discussion, but nothing will be done until the next meeting.

At 7:30 o'clock last night quite a little excitement was kicked up in Pasadena on account of a fight between Edward L. Haney and a man named Brent. It seems that the two men met in the rear of Bennett & Wright's billiard-rooms, and, after passing the compliments of the day in strong California language, Brent reached out and knocked Haney down, and then proceeded to thump him in the most approved style. Before the compatants could be separated Haney been presented.

Chandon is described as being a tall, Chandon is described as being a tall, dark-complexioned young man about 29 years of age. He has dark hair and eyes and a dark mustache. He was for a time in the real-estate business in Los Angeles. His comrade is about 23 years old, light-complexioned, with a thin, yellow mustache. He dresses very stylishly, and answers the description of a young man who served a term in the Sacramento jail for forging conductors' passes.

SEWING - MACHINE!

TESTIMONIALS:

Following are letters received by the Times-Mirror Company from subscribers who have purchased the Premium Sowing-machine through unit

"GIVING PERFECT SATISFACTION."

J.W. Boss, Pasadona, writes: The Times-Mirror Sewing-machine is giving perfect est-tefaction; in my opinion it is as good as any 86 machine. I have not done any heavy work on it yes, but I think it will do it all right.

"HIGHLY PLEASED WITH IT." "HIGHLY PLASSED WITH IT.

Mrs. Edwin Brown, Los Angeles: In repty to yours of 28th would state that I am highly pleased with the Premium Sewing-machine I received with the Minnon. Gives every satisfaction; so easy to learn how to manage; does such excellent work; in fact cannot praise it too much, and would not take twice the-amount it cost me.

Mrs. S. A. Ware, Pasadona: I have used your sewing-machine since last July. The more we stort the better we like it. On fisse and heavy work it is splendld. We have tried the attachment. In fact it goes shead of your advertisement so far.

"LIKE IT ESTER THAN THE $125 SINGER."
Joseph Wilson, Los Angeles: The machine gives entire entifaction. My wife likes the better than the $125 Singer that it has replaced.

"GIVES GOOD SATISFACTION."

S. W. True, East Los Angeles: We have the High-Arm Machine and use it for light family sewing. It gives good satisfaction.

RUES MOOTE-AND SEWS EVERYTHING BUT "RUBS SECOTE—AND SEWS EVERYTHING BOY
William P. Wade. Los Angeles: The repor of the chief engineer of the sewing department of my demestic establishment is to the effect that the sewing-machine lately furnished by you for $22 arrived in good order and in due pd has given entire estisfactien. It runs lightly and with very little noise and performs to perfection all kinds of sewing work with the exception of buttons.
[When the freight is paid to Los Angeles by the Times-Mirror Company the price is $25.50.]

"TREED 'BM ALL AND LIKES THE MIRROR MAWIBIAM I. POICE, 215 Temple etrect, Los Anyeles: My wife tried several $75 machines, and chose the Mirror Premium Sewing-mashine as an equal to the best in the market, for one-jourth of the money. It is perfect in all particulars, and admired by all who see it.
My wife has been using it several months, and we both cheerfully recommend it to the public as represented.

THE HIGH-PRICED ARTICLE."

C.E. Spencer, Los Angeles: Hawing sold hundreds of the Remington Sewing-machines for 805, which you are now offering with the [wassalr Minnon at 202/[155,50 when freight is paid to L'as Angeles]. I wish to say that the machine you offer is identically the same as the high-priced article, both as to material, workmanship and capacity. Being a resident here and an experienced sewing-machine man, I will take pleasure in instructing any one in working the machine, in this place or vicinity.

time, in excellent confliction, without surrates on blemish, and I am delighted with it. We believe the machine is all that you recommend it to be, and think it a rare opportunity for those who may want a machine to get a first-class one cheap.

"FEBFEOT IN EVERY RESPECT."

Mrs. E. C. Gresston, Norwalk: The High series Premium Machine arrived in prime condition, and is perfect in every respect. Preight 52.50, with first cost added, making $22.50 for as good a machine as is usually sold through agents for $75. Well pleased. 1825.50 when freight is paid to Los Angeles.]

"VERY NUCH PLEASED WITH IT."

Mrs. Martha Allison. Downey: I am very much pleased with my machine as far as I have used it. and feel safe in saying that I have just as good a machine as if I had given 855 for it. Shall advise any of my friends to try this before buying any other, as I think if is fully as good as represented.

"RUNS LIGHT AND EASY - DOES S. M. Shaw, Pasadena: I can say in regard to the mackine that it is well liked. It runs light and easy, and does its work well. It is a very cheap machine at the price you fur-nish it.

"EQUAL TO THE BEST SHE EVER USED."
William T. Parcel, Compton: The High-arm
Sewing-machine ordered from your company was received in good order, and Mrs. Parce mays it is equal to the best of any other kind

"PROVES SATISFACTORY."

W. P. Beadley, San Gabriel: The sewing machine we received through your office proves satisfactory.

"WIPS TRINKS IT THE DEST SHE EVER USED."

J. W. McLellan. Tustin City: We received Premium Sewing-machine through your office, and my wife thinks it the best she ever used;
ionsequently are well pleased.

SUPERIOR IN SOME RESPECTS TO THE BROT."
S. A. Mattison, Los Angeles: My wife and sanchter are well pleased with your TimesMitter Sewing-machine. They have used sevtral of the best makes of machines, and yet say your machine is superior in some respects e those they have used, and in no way inferior. They were at first afraid, as many are, no doubt, that it is too cheap to be first-class, but are now satisfied that it is as good as anothines costing three or four times as much.

wrote you'll discovered the cause of the trouble. The Hittle tension screw in the shuhe had worked loose and was nearly out, and he shuttle thread, in sewing fast, would catch a the screw and break. I tightened the screw and is now works like a charm; no more breaking thread or irregularity of stitch.

'ONE OF THE MEST INVESTMENTS THEY EVEN MADE."

MYS. U. L. Shaffer, Orange: We received our High-armed Sewing-machine in good order, and I am very much pleased with it, and occasion it one of the best investments we even made. It is nicely finished, and runs strong and light, doing nice work. Any one needing a good machine I do not think can do better has invest it? in the machine and Minkos, for $2.50 when the Company pays freight to Log Angeles.]

Martha M. Shaffer, Orange; I thank you fos sending to me for testimonisels, as I have set ray new machine in the parlor without even threading it, as I was very busy and had a good machine ready for work and used to running. So I did not take time to do anyching with the new one until I received your fotter. Then I brought mine and wunt to running it to test it. I was more than satisfied, and giadly recommend it to those who ared a machine. I think I would have gained that to have used it long ago.

Harriet Martineau - Archery-War Preparations in 1798-Pierre F. C. Augereau-Dr. Thomas Arnold, Author of "Tom Brown at Rugby."

Today recalls the careers of two fanous writers. Harriet Martineau was orn June 12, 1802. She began her iterary career early, and wrote a large umber of educational works, popular tracts on social topics, and completed Knight's History of England. Her works include over one hundred volames, besides constant contributions to the reviews and the newspapers. She died June 27, 1876.

Rev. Charles Kingsley, author of 'Hypatia," "Alton Locke" and other works, was born June 12, 1819. He was educated at Cambridge, became a clergyman of the Church of England and directed his efforts to the improvement of the working cleaves. nent of the working classes.

ARCHERY. The popularity of archery as a sport makes it interesting to recall the im-portance which the bow formerly held portance which the bow formerly held as a weapon of offensive warfare. In a letter of Edward III., dated June 12. 1349, and addressed to the bailiffs of London, the King gives orders that on all holidays the people shall include shooting of arrows among their sports, and forbids throwing stones, foot-ball and other specified amusements, as interfering with the practice of archery. As an instance of its value in battle it is stated that in one of the skirmishes of the French war 80 bowmen defeated 200 French knights, and in another contest 20 men disposed of 120 men-at-arms. Tradition states that these shafts were discharged with effect a distance of discharged with effect a distance of 400 yards, and it is certain that they were sent with deadly effect a distance of 240 yards. The bows were made of the height of the archer, each of whom carried 16 heavy and eight light arrows, the last employed in galling the enemy. The arrows used at Agincourt were a yard long without the head, but the usual length was from 27 to 33 inches. They were made of hazel, turkeywood, fustic, alder, beach, blackthorn, elder and sallow; the best arrows being of birch, oak, ash, service tree and hornbeam. Witch-hazel ash and elm were used for ordinary bows, but war bows were always made of yew. The prices were usually fixed by statute, and in the reign of Elizabeth the best foreign-made yew bows brought 6 shillings 8 pence, while those made of English yew sold for 2 shillings. In the process of military indischarged with effect a distance of made of English yew sold for 2 shillings. In the progress of military inventions the rifle has supplanted the bow, and what was once a powerful weapon of war has become merely an instrument for fashionable amusement and recreation. Four hundred years ago, however, a statute of Edward IV. decreed that every man should own a bow and should also provide fer his son's practice of archery from the age of 7.

THE THREATENED WAR WITH FRANCE. On June 12, 1798, during the administration of President John Adams, Congress passed an act suspending commercial relations with France, and the alien act decreed the expulsion of foreigners whom the President might deem it inexpedient to permit to remain in the country. The effort to embroil the reach a state of the reach a supplemental with France of the control of the reach a supplemental with France of the control of the reach act and the reach a supplemental with France of the control of the control of the control of the control of the reach act and the control of the contr United States in a quarrel with England, to which the President and the Federal party were opposed, caused this measure to be adopted, although it was foreseen that it might lead to a awar with France. Bills were passed for the increase of the navy, and it was also provided by other acts that each regiment of the army was to consist of a full complement of 700 men, while 12 new regiments were created at the same time.

PIERRE F. C. AUGEREAU, one of Napoleon's ablest marshals, was born at Paris, 1757. He was the was born at Paris, 1757. He was the son of a mechanic and received but little education. Prior to the Revolution he was a fencing master at Naples. In the Italian campaigns of 1795-96 he was one of the most energetic and successful of the French generals. The two famous victories of Lodi and Arcola were chiefly due to the intrepidity of Augereau. He participated in all the subsequent campaigns, and though he declared his adhesion to Louis XVIII. in 1814, he joined Napoleon in 1815. He died June 12, 1816.

DR. THOMAS ARNOLD.

DR. THOMAS ARNOLD. Those popular stories, "Tom Brown at Rugby" and "Tom Brown at Oxat Rugby" and "Tom Brown at Oxford," and the subsequent literary career and American tours of his son, Matthew Arnold, have made the name of Dr. Thomas Arnold, the eminent historian, teacher and preacher, familiar to all Americans. Dr. Arnold was born in June, 1795, was educated at Oxford, and took holy orders in 1828, when he was appointed headmaster at Rugby school, where he exhibited rare talents as an instructor of the young. In 1841 Dr. Arof the young. In 1841 Dr. Ar-nold was appointed Regius Profes-sor of History in the University of Oxford. He died on the 12th of June,

For seme time past there has been a great deal of complaint about men and half-grown boys jumping on trains on Alameda street while they are in motion, and the railroad people have requested the officers to keep a look out for persons violating the ordinance in this regard. Yesterday about noon Officer Dugan saw a 16-year-old boy named Hardy Keyes jump on the train, when he gave chase to arrest him. The boy jumped off and gave the officer a lively run for a block or mere, when he was overhauled and brought to the police station, where he was locked up, charged with misdemeanor.

RETIRING

FROM BUSINESS.

I would respectfully announce to the citizens of Los Angeles that, owing to a large increase in the rent of my store premises, it will not justify me to remain longer in the cigar and tobacco business at my old stand. Therefore, please observe and take advantage of the fact that FOR THE NEXT THIRTY DAYS will make a great reduction on former former price, two for 25c.

Imported Cigars, heretofore sold three for 50c, can now be had two for 25c: and those sold for 25c ean now be had for 25c: and those sold for 25c ean now be had for 25c.
